Good afternoon, Carly,

I hope this email finds you well. I am in receipt of your OPRA request and am reaching out to see if you are able to clarify it any further. According to the jail, anytime an inmate is handcuffed, that restraint is considered a use of force and therefore a report is generated. This is a daily occurrence, and considering the 5 year span of your request, it would take a significant amount of time and effort to compile the documents you are seeking. As such, can you kindly advise whether you can clarify your request?

I look forward to your response.

Thanks,
Melissa
