Narrative

I responded to 19 Princeton Lane for a 911-hang up. Upon my arrival I was met by one of the homeowners Michael Arpaia who stated that his wife Jennifer was having some trouble catching her breath and he called out of concern. I walked to the garage area where Jennifer was in the car with her son. She stated that she sometimes has mild panic attacks but was feeling better at this time. I asked her if she wanted medical services to assess her and she stated that she did not. I then asked her if she was comfortable enough for patrol to leave or if she wanted further medical attention. She advised she wanted no further assistance. She appeared to be ok by my own observations at this time. She was breathing and speaking normally to me as well. I cleared. NFA
