I was ordered to review your report and approve it. During the review process, I placed notes in the supervisor comment selection of your report that should be address prior to my approval.

No Lt. Colon

If the report needs corrections from when it was first submitted. The Officer needs to clarify or correct what the first line supervisor is requesting. This report should be treated no different than any other report that needs first approval. Supervisor notes need to be addressed. Please have Officer Profitt address what was rejected when he returns.

As per meeting, I reviewed Officer Profitt investigation report for this incident. The report is currently in rejected status.

I understand you ordered me to review / approve this report tonight. However I do not approve reports with outstanding supervisory notes. Officer Profitt is not expected back to work until Friday evening at 7:00 pm. I have attached screen shot of the supervisory notes, so that you understand some of the questions I have about his report.

Do you want to give Officer Profitt an opportunity to make corrections and answer the supervisory questions? Or

Do you want the report approved with the outstanding supervisory notes. Since these notes are erased upon 2nd level approval I have attached a screen shot with this email.

FYI, I found that Justin Daughtry pawned coins stolen from the Hogbin Rd. Burglary about an hour after the Burglary. I couldn't pin him to the burglary until we did an SW at his house and found the TV that was stolen. He was charged and lodged after that. I just got word from the lab that the prints we lifted came back to Daughtry. Just wanted to let you know.

I received an anonymous call in dispatch on 6/3/16 about possible CDS activity, in the area of 3rd and Vine Street. The caller stated that the house is on the corner, yellow in color, and that the CDS activity happens at the upstairs apartment. The caller stated that the only way to access the (upstairs) apartment is by the steps at the rear of the house. The caller stated that a dark skin black male, with beard, sits in a chair at the top of the steps. The caller stated that people will walk up the stairs and make a hand to hand exchange with the black male. The caller stated that if the black male is not outside, people will knock on the door, the same black male will come outside and make the same type of hand to hand exchange. The caller stated that she only knows the male by his nickname "Pamphylia". It was later discovered that the address is 329 N. 3rd street (2nd Floor Apt.).

Subject: CFS Codes

Officers are reminded that when you have a DV there should be an additional CFS code to go along with DV code (ie. Harassment, assault, verbal dispute). Same goes for burglary (ie. Trespassing, theft). And if you are handling a DV where the couple have children (whether present or not during dispute) you are to call DCPD to report the DV in ALL DV cases. It doesn't take long and it benefits that agency as well as the victims and their children (also it's what were supposed to do).
