A Message
from the League President

The New Jersey State League of Municipalities is a voluntary association created to support and enhance municipal governance by pooling information resources and facilitating sharing of ideas. The League also enables towns to come together in a united voice to advocate on needs and positions. It is authorized by state statute and for the past 102 years has been serving local officials throughout the Garden State. The elected and appointed officials of member municipalities who receive all the services and privileges of the League number 13,000.

The League publishes New Jersey Municipalities magazine, numerous booklets, surveys, handbooks and other reference materials. A selected listing of League publications is found near the end of this Directory. The League also provides many other services to its members, such as the Bureau of Municipal Information, legal consultation, training seminars, an annual conference, legislative analysis, lobbying and our informative website NJSLOM.org.

This Directory lists municipalities in alphabetical order from top to bottom. It includes their county, phone and fax numbers, addresses, 2010 Census Bureau Population, Mayors, and the names of key appointed officials, along with the Municipal Clerk email address. Included again this year is the telephone number for the Attorney, Director of Law, Corporation Counsel or Municipal Solicitor.

The following listing titles are used:

- | | |
|-------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Mayor | Legal - Attorney, Director of Law, |
| Municipal Clerk | Corporation Counsel or |
| | Mun. Solicitor |
| Mgr - Municipal Manager | Adm - Business Administrator |

This Directory also includes a list of League Officers, Executive Board, and Executive Staff on page 4 and a list of Affiliated Municipal Associations starting on page 7.

I hope you find the 2018 Municipal Directory helpful throughout the year. Please call the League staff in Trenton if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

NJLM EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION, INC

In early 2017, the Foundation in cooperation with New Jersey Future published on its website the white paper “The Importance of Long-Term Planning in Reducing Flooding Vulnerability” by David Kutner AICP PP. Later in July the Foundation published “The New Jersey Economy—The Expansion Continues” by Dr. James Hughes, University Professor, Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey. All Foundation publications are available for free download at the foundation website.

Through the generous support of Verizon, the NJLM Foundation presented a half-day event in April, “An Introduction to Smart Communities Technology” at Felician University in Rutherford. This event educated municipal and county officials, economic development coordinators, community planners, non-profit organizations, and students from the university on the impacts of implementing Smart Communities technologies. The concept of Smart Communities is quickly dominating the municipal technology discussion and the NJLM Foundation is working to fill that need.

To further capitalize on years of experience piloting the youth and family literacy program “Mayors Book Club,” the Foundation printed the manual, “Planning and Participating in a Mayors Book Club” and distributed it to mayors at the Annual League Conference. The manual was written by Dr. Vicki Cohen, Fairleigh Dickenson University, and edited by Foundation President Timothy McDonough, Mayor, Hope. The manual is also available for free download from the Foundations webpage njlmef.org

The Educational Foundation will soon complete its work administering small grants in support of Sustainable Jersey. Over the years, more than $1 million in grants has been administered from such funders as Wal-Mart Corp, BPU, and others.

Visit the NJLM Educational Foundation on line at njlmef.org

From October through June, monthly issues of New Jersey Municipalities, the League’s award-winning magazine, continue to educate and inform more than 6,300 readers and a vast pass-along readership as a vital source of information and news to assist governing in local communities.

League members’ contributions to the magazine provide a platform to share their views and ideas with a wide range of officials and policymakers. Members of the state and national legislatures also contribute to and read the magazine to maintain the important ties between municipal issues and the state and national arenas. In addition to elected official’s articles, New Jersey Municipalities includes a mix of pieces by state commissioners and other experts, as well as informative columns, opinion pieces, and advertising by some of the state’s leading providers of products and services.

Contact the magazine’s Managing Editor Amy Spiezio at 609-695-3481, ext. 123, or NJM@njslom.org to contribute an article. For more information, including subscription and advertising rates, please visit njslom.org/magazine.
