So apparently Chuck came in during the day shift and had the crews strip the van of everything AFTER pulling it out, pulling back into the building nose first and turning the front wheels before locking the truck and hiding the keys. I was also told that he's filing to further fight the repossession. In other words, not only is he prepared to violate orders, but he's dragging his employees into it as well. Then Jim Otis said that they should pull out the radios because "they're owned by the squad too".

Meghan,

You previously showed me the ordinance the Township passed to purchase the ambulance. Can you forward me this ordinance and any other proofs we have regarding ownership of the ambulance. I think I am close to have the DES attorney agree the ambulance belongs to the Township.

If not, we may want to consider filing an action in Superior Court to determine ownership.

No, but I'll check in with the attorney for DES. He wanted to review his client's documents and our documents. In that email I asked if you could forward me the ordinance when the Township purchased the vehicle and/or anything we have.

Al,

As you may recall, my firm represents the Delran Emergency Squad. It has come to my attention that a dispute has arisen between the DES and your client, Riverside Township, as to the ownership of a particular ambulance. It is also my understanding that representatives from the Township are asserting that they are going to DES on Monday to take possession of the vehicle.

I left you a message in your office so we could discuss the matter, but I figured I would follow-up with an email in an abundance of caution. I would recommend that we speak to try to amicably resolve the matter before either party takes any action regarding this ambulance. You are free to call me on my cell (609-760-7444) at any time. I will be certain that I am available over the weekend as well in the event that it works better for you.

Jeff,

I know I told you I would call you in an hour but I forgot that I will be in a kids birthday party and may not be in the best position to talk. When you get a chance, can you send me any documents, or just a narrative, explaining your client's position as to this vehicle being their property. I have not yet seen anything that would show this and all prior agreements between my clients and your clients indicate the vehicle belongs to my client.
