Question? In an recent video I see a phone printed on the back and the sides of the vehicle. but I see no 911 decals, would this mean that Atlantic county is NOT 911 compatible? and a manual phone needs to be dialed in order to get emergency services such as fire and police?

My name is cathy. I'm 34 and when I was at my best i was an all star athlete up through college, almost joined with the Army instead I went to be a cop. I started to get very ill and that dream was shattered. I wanted to be with a k9 unit than get into the FBI for profiling. Anyway in 2013 I found out I was sick and now I have terminal cancer. One day I found all these police shows about a year ago and I was consistently watching. I wanted to say personal thank you to all the Leo's out there, seeing the officers and k9s brings joy and passion back to my heart that I lost a long time ago. I hope this doesn't bother you or anybody but I'm trying to collect patches to make a weighted blanket for my 2 year old before I pass away, so he has something we both shared together and will always help him feel safe; aj is non verbal, autistic. He loves police lights, uniform, the dogs and all the sounds. He enjoys all stories of police and especially the ones with K9s. We thank every leo we see for their service and sometimes are able to take a picture with them. I wasn't sure if anyone on here could help me accomplish this project, it would mean tons to me and my son, we love law enforcement and all the officers and departments everywhere all across the US. We watch on tv religiously and are huge back the blue supporters!!! I hope that you can share a patch or shirt for this project. I thank you all for your service and God bless all of you ♥ Thank you.
