| Carteret Free Public Library | Carteret Public Library Improvement Project | 25      | The facility is located in close proximity to underserved individuals in an overburdened community and is accessible by bus and by car. The applicant seems capable of maintaining services beyond the life of the grant, but does not specifically mention experience overseeing grant funded capital projects. There also seems to be disproportionate prioritization of a computer technician course that requires an application as opposed to more universal services that are widely available. | 26      |

| Carteret Free Public Library | Applicant does a great job of describing the unique and significant needs of the community that were exacerbated by the pandemic. They reference several data sources to support this, but could be supplemented by additional direct engagement with the community through surveys and/or focus groups.                                                                                                                          | 12      | Intended impacts are aligned with the goals of the CPF program. Applicant is using labor market data to identify high growth industries and developing programming to align with that, but it would likely be more appropriate to engage with the community and offer the skills training that the community is specifically asking for. In general, it is probably better to offer broad skills development and job readiness programming as opposed to intensive training in a niche field. | 12      |

| Carteret Free Public Library | Applicant has strong partnerships with community organizations that provide necessary ESL classes and general programming in work, education, and health monitoring. The partnership with the Carteret Business Partnership seems to be offering programming that is specific to certain career paths rather than being broadly useful. Community engagement should also go beyond raising awareness of offerings and allow for more input from the community about the services they would benefit from. | 7       | The proposed budget is sufficiently detailed, but seems to prioritize their Computer Technician and Medical Billing and Coding programs to a disproportionate degree. The CPF program is intended to advance all three goals of work, education, and health monitoring. The proposed renovations have the potential to do all three, but the bulk of the project seems focused on workforce programs for very specific career paths. |

The programs identified and partnerships seem to fit the needs of their community and would result in positive outcomes. However, I believe more information in regards to the end of their current grant funding should be addressed, as they are also involved in renovating the spaces identified in this project. | 63           | 73.66666667                 |
