Subject: Why Benchmarking 311 Matters - Email 2 of 5
From: Julia Notar-Francesco <julia@seeclickfix.com>

To: publicworks@hopewelltp-nj.com

Hello, Anthony!

As promised, here's the 2nd installment of 5 ways Public Services are tackling top local governments priorities.

#2 Establishing a 311 Benchmark

When you're designing, delivering, and optimizing Public Services you need to know where you stand.

Don't worry, you're doing better than you think 😊.

Benchmarking establishes:

- How responsive local government is to residents
- The types and volume of requests being submitted
- Each department's ability to meet their commitments

Here's how the Village of Bayside, WI got started.

COLLECT AND ANALYZE

Nearly 2 years after launching Access Bayside (powered by SeeClickFix), the Village of Bayside paused to analyze the 311 data it had collected. They found a few surprises.

- Resident Engagement is High: Over the previous 22 months, the Village received more than 2,000 requests from its 4,500 residents.

- Staff is Really Responsive: Requests were acknowledged in .97 days and were closed in 5.47 days.
- There's an Opportunity to Simplify: In order to simplify request reporting, Village leadership shortened the request category list by 50% to include only the most used categories.

Bayside is always looking to improve and now it has the data to measure its success.

Do you know where your Public Services stands? Learn more about Bayside's journey.

Here's to your success in 2019!

I believe you attached the wrong item as this is no longer a valid registration as 2018 is over, section 6 of ordinance 15-10 clearly states that it is an annual registration to be completed on or before march 31 of each year. Also only one item was attached their are multiple properties being actively rented on Pease lane. You have said that dave haaf is responsible for the inspection and the township meetings have indicated for many months now residents have been making complaints about the illegal occupancy on these properties, when will you start doing the legally required inspections? i have seen their have been over 19 different tenants in the last 4 months and not a single inspection from a township officer which seems like a major violation you guys are allowing to continue. the previously attached registration from 2018 says 66 pease lane is a 4 bedroom house , the ordinance regulating housing would indicate the maximum occupancy for renting would be 8 persons and 75 pease lane as 6 persons as it only a 3 bedroom correct?

Your meeting minutes reflect that the township is aware that these proprieties having been regularly illegally rented for months now, why isn't the township pursuing violations as your Ordinance Regulating Rental Housing # 15-10 clearly states that registering the property doesn't grant permission to rent and that it is the issuance of Housing Permit which is only issued upon compliance with the ordinances sub sections .

Subject: Are your public services fair? Email 3 of 5
From: Julia Notar-Francesco <julia@seeclickfix.com>
Date: 1/24/2019, 7:39 PM
To: publicworks@hopewelltp-nj.com

Hello, Anthony!

Here's your 3rd installment of 5 ways Public Services are tackling top local governments priorities.

#3 Achieving Public Service Parity

Some neighborhoods are highly engaged. Others, not so much. Even when residents aren't raising their hands, they need to know that their neighborhood matters.

It's local government's responsibility to allocate resources fairly.

For you, it's hard to know what's going on in these neighborhoods without hearing from the people who live there.

Where to begin?

Pictured below is a Discovery Map showing where Public Service requests are coming from.
Here, the city is focusing on under reported areas. Click to enlarge.

WALK THE WALK

As part of the Clean and Safe Streets initiative, the City of New Haven, CT set up a series of cross-departmental tours in neighborhoods where lower citizen engagement was suspected.

During each walk through, representatives from city departments walked side-by-side with alders, business owners and residents, reporting issues via SeeClickFix.

Goals and Outcomes:

- Encourage Citizen Engagement by Engaging: Investing a little staff time to create a digital (and a literal) handshake between officials and residents goes a long way toward showing that you care about the quality of life in all communities.
- Don't Stop 'Til You Get Enough...Data: By cross-referencing SeeClickFix data, phone calls to the city, parcel information, etc., officials have insight into how different neighborhoods connect within their community.
- Design and Create Public Service Parity: Showing up is half the battle - taking action is the other. A review of New Haven's 2018 SeeClickFix data clearly shows that no matter the neighborhood, quality of life issues are reported and resolved.

Check out Inspectors Swoop Into Fair Haven to learn more about New Haven's successful approach.

Ready to visualize 311 requests as you work on public services that build trust?

Hello,

We do vacant property registrations for mortgage companies and have left a couple messages for your code enforcement, however, we have not received any return response. Can you help me with this or please direct me to the correct person to discuss your ordinance. The property at 12 Center Lane is registered with your office. We are reaching out to determine if there is a renewal? Is it annual or otherwise? What is the renewal fee, if applicable?

Thank you

To: DCottage@diamondmowers.com

Good Morning,

We purchased a Diamond boom 16 ft (flail) mower. Inquiring if its possible to change the head to a rotary (40") and how difficult it is. We may be taking on shared services and we need to have the ability to have both heads (Ditches/reeds/grass and larger trees).

The flail has performed flawlessly and leaves a really nice cut. But we do not want to tear it up cutting trees and the rotary head we had before (Rhino) left a horrible cut in the grass areas, and not to clean elsewhere either.

Thanks for any ideas/help you can give

Hey.

After hanging the recycle sign.....the word BOOK is spelled incorrect. No problem, I'll fix it here. But can you make the change on the master. Other municipalities want to use it. Thanks. (book has an "E" on the end.)

We needed to pickup battery terminals for the salt spreader on a voucher ($11.99).

No petty cash was available.

Dave,

The front right light (when looking at the facility) under the overhang is out.

We also need to have the shining star parking sign removed whenever possible.
