This guy weaseled his way to chief by playing Township politics to reach the 2nd floor ivory tower. Because he rose through the ranks as fast as he did, he lost sight of what was it was like to actually work in patrol, and instead focused on things that do not matter to the men and women under his command. One of his most shameful comments ever made was when he announced to the patrol officers that they were "sitting in the cheap seats."

My comment here is my opinion as one of the guys that sat "in the cheap seats." Gary used to be a decent guy, but things really changed over the years. As many chiefs have done before, this guy weaseled his way to chief by playing Township politics, not necessarily from good police work. Because he rose through the ranks as fast as he did, he lost sight of what it was like to actually work in patrol, and instead focused on things that do not matter to the men and women under his command. Picking the color of a patrol vehicle is pretty low on the priority list, but that was one of his flagship decisions at the time. Day after day, he would kiss the ass of any town administrator he could find, and ignore the damage being done to the department. He COULD have used his position to advocate for his men and women. But that would have required him to actually be a leader and put his own neck on the line. One glaring example of his loss of vision was when he and his officers were discussing a controversial topic. Gary announced to those patrol officers that they were "sitting in the cheap seats, " which really meant that the officers and their view did not matter. I can't explain what a deep and unbelievable insult this was to the men and women that put their lives on the line and do the actual work every single day while he sits behind a desk on the 2nd floor of his Ivory Tower. Gary has made some very questionable decisions that have affected the perception of his leadership. The most egregious example was bringing his officers to a purely political kneeling ceremony for BLM in 2020. What kind of leader knowingly puts his officers in that position and what kind of message does that send to the officers under his command? The answer is a BAD leader and that his officers are merely political pawns for him to use to further his own agenda. There are many more examples I could put out there, but I'm already disgusted by these memories. Enjoy the weekend LPD, and godspeed to those hoping that when the time comes, the administration will be in their corner.

My comment here is my opinion as one of the guys that sat "in the cheap seats." Gary used to be a decent guy, but things really changed over the years. As many chiefs have done before, this guy weaseled his way to chief by playing Township politics, not necessarily from good police work. Because he rose through the ranks as fast as he did, he lost sight of what it was like to actually work in patrol, and instead focused on things that do not matter to the men and women under his command. Picking the color of a patrol vehicle is pretty low on the priority list, but that was one of his flagship decisions at the time. Day after day, he would find any town administrator he could, and ignore the damage being done to the department. He COULD have used his position to advocate for his men and women. But that would have required him to actually be a leader and put his own neck on the line. One glaring example of his loss of vision was when he and his officers were discussing a controversial topic. Gary announced to those patrol officers that they were "sitting in the cheap seats, " which really meant that the officers and their view did not matter. I can't explain what a deep and unbelievable insult this was to the men and women that put their lives on the line and do the actual work every single day while he sits behind a desk on the 2nd floor of his Ivory Tower. Gary has made some very questionable decisions that have affected the perception of his leadership. The most egregious example was bringing his officers to a purely political kneeling ceremony for BLM in 2020. What kind of leader knowingly puts his officers in that position and what kind of message does that send to the officers under his command? The answer is a BAD leader and that his officers are merely political pawns for him to use to further his own agenda. There are many more examples I could put out there, but I'm already disgusted by these memories. Enjoy the weekend LPD, and godspeed to those hoping that when the time comes, the administration will be in their corner.

Some comments aren't showing. How about this one from Harry Nutts? My comment here is my opinion as one the guys that sat "in the cheap seats." Picking the color of a patrol vehicle is pretty low on the priority list, but that was one of his flagship decisions at the time. Day after day, he would follow any town administrator he could find, and ignore the damage being done to the department. He COULD have used his position to advocate for his men and women. But that would have required him to actually be a leader and put his own neck on the line. One glaring example of his loss of vision was when he and his officers were discussing a controversial topic. We are incredibly grateful to Firehouse Subs Public Safety Foundation and our local Firehouse Subs restaurant in Totowa for awarding us a $24,934 grant to ensure our first responders have the necessary equipment to save lives! Having the proper tools is crucial to the safety of our first responders and community. With these funds, we purchased automated external defibrillators (AEDs), allowing us to save lives. The twenty-four new AEDs are replacing units that are over twenty years old. Pictured are the department's CPR instructors Detective Adam McDavitt, Sgt. Paul Lenzi and Officer Levecy DeOliveira.

How can I get a set of cards? I know some of LPD officers and would like to see who else is on the force. One thing, whatever happened with the Neighborhood Watch? I was at the meeting, tried in my neighborhood, but it seemed my neighbors were not interested or just didn't "get it".

We have been made aware that the high school seniors will be starting their annual game of assassin today. Please be aware that you may see kids ducking and hiding carrying high-powered water guns around town and in your neighborhoods.

We want to be clear that we DO NOT condone this game. The last thing we want is a kid to be mistaken for a criminal. To the students, we ask if you decide to play: please, please use common sense. Do not dress in all dark clothing and hide around houses or cars. Consider playing during daylight hours only. Also, please drive safely.
