Good afternoon

I just want to make you guys aware, but you probably already know, that this Kelli Bowen person announced that she's going live tonight at 8 o'clock your time eastern and she's going to discuss all of these things that pertain to Halbach, LeConey and now her arrest.

I know you are following her House of Horrors page. So you probably know already.

First of all, I thought she was told not to incriminate or try to incriminate Lynn Mangano anymore. But she still is. She has blocked and deleted all very who has stood up for Lynn.

It's actually in her page's declaration that anyone who defends Lynn will not be allowed in the group.

She is trying to link me to Michelle Ehmer and Sonya Fitzgerald. I'm not sure exactly what she thinks she's going to prove with that but she is now intent on trying to prove I was involved?

But one of the things she distinctly says is that she's going to tell everybody what was in that tote that she stole. If what is in that tote is part of your evidence against Hallback and LeConey, does she have the right to publish it?

She is so mad that she was arrested that now she's trying to incriminate everybody else. She's trying to incriminate the ladies from the rescues that turned her into you guys. The one from Texas and the one from Virginia.

She's posting old police records that have nothing to do with her case or the animal cruelty case.

She has hooked up with this guy Patrick Duff who is a blogger. He calls himself an investigative reporter. In reality he's nobody. He tried to get into the presser yesterday, and they wouldn't let him in because he didn't have the proper credentials.

Then he waited outside yesterday and interviewed Kelli Bowen. He is another one that is desperately trying to connect himself to these cases to try and make a name for himself.

He keeps posting on her page inaccurate information. He's still saying that Lynn Mangano lives right down the street from where Rebecca lived. We all know that's not true. Because he thinks she actually lives at the address of the post office where she has a PO Box.

I am sorry, I don't want to waste anymore of your time. My main concern right now is that she's "going live" tonight on Facebook.

And I don't want her to jeopardize your case against LeConey and Halbach. By talking about the evidence that she stole from the crime scene.

She is now telling everyone that she is, in fact, working with the Evesham Township police, and that she is helping them/you recover evidence.

I think if she was helping you guys, she would've turned over the files that she stole, Rebecca's wallet, and everything else that she took. She would've turned all of that over to you directly. Not take it home to her house and go through it on her own.

FYI, she's furious that you guys took her phone and won't give it back to her. I don't know what this woman's problem is, but she thinks she knows the law which she doesn't seem to. And she thinks that the police are a joke. Also, this Patrick Duff guy. He also has a blog that is putting you guys down big time. He is no friend to law-enforcement.

So that's my story and I'm sticking to it. You could email me back if you want or feel free to call me.

Sorry to take up so much of your time. This is all complete and utter nonsense. Your department made a statement, but they refuse to except it and are continuing to slander Lynn Mangano.
