Dear Ms. Copenhagen,

I am a landscape contractor who does excavation for a State of New Jersey DEP licensed oil tank removal engineer. All oil tank removals are performed with township, borough or city permits as required by law and inspected for compliance.

At no time was any township equipment or personnel used in any my private contracting work. All township equipment is identified with a township seal, and name which would be apparent to any bystander.

This is baseless attack created on rumors and innuendos.

Subject: [EXTERNAL] RE: NBC 4 News Request - On Deadline

Dear Ms. Copenhagen,

I am a landscape contractor who does excavation for a State of New Jersey DEP licensed oil tank removal engineer. All oil tank removals are performed with township, borough or city permits as required by law and inspected for compliance.

At no time was any township equipment or personnel used in any my private contracting work. All township equipment is identified with a township seal, and name which would be apparent to any bystander.

This is baseless attack created on rumors and innuendos.

Thank You
Sal Bonaccorso
