I appreciate your reply. I know y'all are really swamped by this. The craziness on facebook is unreal. It's a real witch hunt. Actually it's a lynching mob. They are trying to implicate everyone and anybody - even me!
Can you at least tell me when their court date is? Or hasn't that been determined?
Thanks again

This is an active investigation and most of those questions I can't answer. As for the property… the homeowners may enter the residence as they please to make repairs. Only they may file complaints for trespassing.

Is it no longer a crime scene? No longer being investigated? Has it been completely searched and investigated? There are still dead animals in there. It isn't the evesham township PD duty to secure it?
Is the homeowner the only one can report trespassers?

Thanks for reaching out. The house is private property and we have no right to go on the property to secure/lock it. If they wish to pursue complaints for people trespassing our patrol officers can handle the complaint. That goes for any perceived threats as well.

Good morning,

Regarding the Halbach/LeConey case.

I feel you should know that people have been entering 680 Main Street and removing items.

It appears that some sort of records were found and taken.

I can't say for certain who actually entered the property but they somehow found paperwork that pertains to the former adoptions or interest in animals over the past year or so.

They have made up some sort of flyer asking for information.

and are going around putting it in those peoples mailboxes. Not only are they doing this in New Jersey. People have said that they live in Pennsylvania and they have gotten them in their mailboxes. One person said she had asked her neighbors and nobody else got it but her, so people are going in that house.

I wouldn't be surprised if they've gone through the car as well. The house is unlocked, there's no crime scene posted on it, there's nothing.

I can't say for sure but a person named Kelli Bean aka Kelly Bowen, has taken it upon herself to attempt to implicate Lynn Mangano and the Coalition for Animals. I believe she is the one putting out the flyers.

I also know someone went in and did a video. It's disgusting. They videotaped two little kittens dead in the bathtub so obviously all the animals weren't taken out of there

But back to people entering the house in general. If they're going through it how can they be finding evidence pertaining to dogs that were either killed or adopted out and the police haven't gone in and gotten that evidence? If they're going in there who's to say Halbach and LeConey aren't going in there as well?

They could possibly have had cash stashed in there. They could have had drugs stashed in there. There could be anything in that house.

If people keep going through that house and removing things how are you going to build a stronger case? Isn't that tampering with evidence?

I truly appreciate all the work that you have done. I know this is a horrendous thing to deal with. I know the house is a nightmare, however, I really really would appreciate it if you guys could lock up that house and stop them from breaking in.

It has turned into a witchhunt on Facebook against other innocent people that had nothing to do with the cruelty. Nor did they know anything about it.

Please feel free to contact me.
