FYI I'm sure you know about this and thought maybe one of your NIXLE alerts for folks who may not follow the Brigantine Public Works Department on Facebook might be a good idea

From the Office of Atlantic County Mosquito Control

"Weather permitting, the Atlantic County Office of Mosquito Control plans to treat parts of Brigantine, as part of its ongoing effort to control adult mosquitoes. No other Atlantic County communities are scheduled for spraying at this time.

"In Brigantine, spraying to reduce adult mosquitoes using ground application equipment will take place on Thursday night August 30th, between 8:00pm and 11:00 pm. The area to be treated is bounded by a line that follows 12th St. N., E. Shore Dr., Golf Course Dr., N. Shore Dr., W. Shore Dr., Lafayette Blvd., W. Shore Dr., Risley Rd., Bayshore Ave., 6th St. S., W. Beach Ave. and E. Beach Ave. Ground spraying will be done using Zenivex, the trade name for etofenprox, applied as an ultra-low volume aerosol."

The EPA does not require relocating or taking special precautions during mosquito control spraying, people may choose to avoid or minimize exposure by:

- Staying indoors during application to immediate area
- Keeping windows shut, window fans and window air conditioners off (or set to circulate indoor air) during spraying
- Keeping children's toys indoors
- Keeping pets indoors, as well as their food, water dishes and toys.

For health information about the pesticides to be applied to this area, call the Atlantic County Office of Mosquito Control at 609-645-5948

Doreen - thank you for your feedback on Facebook. I wanted to address your concern regarding your comment and message. Under the NJ Overdose Prevention Act and more specifically 2C:35-31, any "person who experiences an overdose and seeks medical treatment OR is the subject of a good faith request for medical treatment" cannot be arrested or charged for drug possession. In this case, there was in fact a good faith request for medical treatment for these subjects by the 911 caller. Because of this, neither can be arrested or charged. If you have any other questions or concerns please feel free to let me know. - Sgt. J. Glasser #105

Why no arrest? The law overdose prevention act is for those who have overdosed and agree to treatment? if this dude was denying any of it how is he protected and not charged???, This law is to help and prevent their future use, by them denying or seeking the help they shouldn't be protected by this law??? I agree they need help, but we are not helping them by enabling those who don't want help, Hi Lynda - Happy 4th! Unfortunately I am not in until 4pm today but I have seen similar videos/images all over Facebook this morning.

I think your best bet would be to give Brigantine FD a shout. They are typically very expeditious with preparing information for release and usually post it quickly to their IAFF Facebook. I'll attach a link to that page below in case you don't have it. Unless it is suspicious (i.e. arson) FD will handle the information gathering and investigation. Our personnel will typically only handle assisting with controlling pedestrian and vehicle traffic.

Sorry I couldn't be of more help and I hope you have a great holiday!

So couldn't we have blocked the bridge so they couldn't leave the island?

Brigantine Police Department

at 2:49:12 on 4/01/2019 UTC

Joy - no that is not an option. With respect to pursuing vehicles, roadblocks are prohibited by the NJ Attorney General unless it is an absolute last resort when deadly force would be justified. This is only a property crime and clearly not a situation where deadly force would be justified.

Hi, my name is Eric Giambrone. I am part of a few Jeep organizations that love to support local police departments. I live on the island and would love to put together a organized event with the Jeep community to help raise money for your officers that are participating in the police unity tour. If it helps out for this year or possibly the following year. When I lived in Williamstown (Monroe twp) I've done similar events and help them raise 5k with the helps of the officers that are riding. If this is something your department is interested in feel free to message back, email at [REDACTED] or phone [REDACTED]. Hope to hear from you.

Brigantine Police Department

No sir, at this time we do not offer that service. Please check with CVS or Rite Aid. We are working with the DEA to come up with a solution that doesn't require us to open our main doors all the time :)
