🚓 PUBLIC SAFETY NOTICE: Cove and Jetty beaches CLOSED to vehicles

July 4, 2018 - 11:10AM

Due to the overwhelming number of vehicles currently on the Cove and Jetty beaches, there will be NO FURTHER VEHICLES permitted to access the Cove or Jetty. Both access points will be restricted to vehicle access until further notice. Pedestrians will still be permitted to access these areas.

Please DO NOT call Brigantine Police/Fire Dispatch to ask if these beaches have opened to vehicles as we anticipate high volume of calls today and tonight for persons who are in need of Police/Fire response.

Any/all updates will be posted here on our Facebook page. We know this may not be the news you want to hear today, but this decision has been made with your safety as our #1 priority.

Please have a SAFE and HAPPY 4th of July!

Jen Fernandez Matt, did you see this?

Helen O'Connell Quillen Terrible!! People who work and have purchased tags....cannot get on. They need to limit tags per year...or open more beach!

at 15:54:28 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Helen O'Connell Quillen Don't over sell tags for more vehicle's than can fit in the beach!!! That simple! Does not effect me this year, because I can't go due to disability....but feel for those who work in Brigatine and can't go when their shift ends!!!

at 15:57:51 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Gregg D'Ambrosio Why don't they start by checking every single vehicle, I'm sure at least 50 could be booted , it's called auditing

at 15:58:05 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Tom Caleix I remember when the cove was a place where you pulled up to with your boat and moved it in and out with the tide. Not that many people and just a few cars

at 15:58:18 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Tom Shealey Tags should definitely be limited. This is what deterred me from getting one

at 15:58:40 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Tom Shealey That and the fact that it seems like they really don't pay attention to a vehicle actually having true 4 wheel drive. The ones that get stuck have tags and mostly are awd which just don't work in sand Mike Lyon Surprise surprise surprise. This is what happens when a greedy city sells out its people. The city leaders have been told year after year by its citizens that this would happen. They just don't care. They make the rules and that's that. Hate to say it but the beach has turned into just another shit hole parking lot. Sure was a great place to grow up.....

Laura Boehner Craig Milne they don't start checking until later in the morning. We got there at 730 am for a spot and no one was monitoring the entrance at the jetty. Same on the weekends

Susie DiGironimo Guess they over sold the beach passes

at 18:36:36 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Kim Franchi Robert Eshelman I am all for the limit of tags but that would result in more of a loss of revenue than the amount of money these beach goers actually spend in the city for the day.

at 18:45:59 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Colleen Kampf Robert Eshelman thank you for that!

at 18:52:11 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Robert Eshelman Yeah but it seems like you are complaining about not getting on the beach. You can't just say, hey give us your money these days, but these days are for residents only. Come on now.

at 19:07:09 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Robert Eshelman Kim you are friends with my aunt. I mean no disrespect, but once you start with this junk, when does it stop? North end not being as open is a problem, the cove is not some small hideaway anymore, telling non residents they cant use the cove on holidays is assanine. Just doesn't make sense.

at 19:09:05 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Kim Franchi Robert Eshelman not looking to argue here I am in favor of the limited tags like I said but the city will never give up the revenue generated from the passes. And it could have to do with the state take over on the north end as well. Have a great day and enjoy your fun in the sun. Be safe out there

at 19:10:10 on 7/04/2018 UTC

at 19:22:15 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Stefanie Luczkiewicz Bottura Years ago they used to limit amount of permits they sold and the town got greedy. They need to go back to that and the people that give the tags do not even check to make sure the vehicles are 4x4. And it doesn't say it on the registration or insurance card so how can they have these "rules" on the paperwork and not enforce it

at 19:25:22 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Robert Eshelman Kim Franchi again, its tough. I understand. I live in philly, i hate dealing with the 4th festivities and sports traffic and what not.....i couldnt say let philly residents only to an eagles game..... but it is what it is. Go brigantine

at 19:27:26 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Steve Ross This is the first time I have seen them have to restrict access to the beaches and everyone is losing their minds. While yes, it's busy on the beaches on a normal day, it's not to a point where the police feel it's a public safety issue. If you limit the number of tags you would pull away from the normal volumes during the rest of the year all because of one day a year. How about instead you sell a special 4th of July version or give that special pass to only the first so many purchasers, that solves today's problem a bit without restricting the overall sales. I do however believe there should be pricing tiers for full time/part time vs. non-residence.
at 20:18:15 on 7/04/2018 UTC

Nicole Palladino- Drake Darlene Giese so do the residents!!!!

at 15:15:22 on 7/11/2018 UTC

Nicole Palladino- Drake It's not fair, quite frankly, we buy and use the pass due to having two handicapped children. Our house is right there at the Cove South of the Jetty. The last few years we have not been able to get on during the 4th. Several years ago we left to take them and the two youngest to the bathroom and get some stuff at the house and we weren't allowed back on. Read that, my kids and Mom and tent and chairs and grill and coolers etc were on the beach, but I couldn't get back on.....Sure we could walk on but they can't, hence why we buy the pass. 22 years as a Homeowner, and quite frankly I'm over this. I dont complain ever about the crap I see living at a Beach Entrance or the cars that would park partially in my driveway area (before the lines were painted) as I know we should all share the beauty of the land, but this year really upset me as it was closed so Early. Sadly we were too late

Cove & Jetty UPDATE:

Due to decreasing crowds, we will be slowly allowing vehicles on to the Cove and Jetty beaches. We will continually be monitoring the crowds and traffic. Please be FOREWARNED - In the event that beaches become overcrowded with vehicles again, the vehicle restriction will be reimposed.

Thank you all for your patience and understanding. Happy 4th of July!

at 0:29:19 on 7/05/2018 UTC

Allyn Seel As in the past, limiting the number of passes may be inevitable. Far too many vehicles on the beach now, the occupants leave a mess and it's a headache for BPD. The legality of charging locals the current fee and a hefty fee for shoobs is unknown to me but at least sounds doable.

at 0:37:01 on 7/05/2018 UTC

Tom Bunting They used to limit the permits to a couple of hundred each year. I can remember waiting in line at the township building on day 1 of the sale.

at 0:54:04 on 7/05/2018 UTC

Donna Grazioli DeAngelis R Perhaps the overflow is due to north end beach 4x4 restriction, Jersey Shore Living Magazine's feature of Brigantine with article titled "The Cove is a slice of heaven", and all the voting for Brigantine as the BEST beach in Atlantic County and 2nd best in NJ. Yes tourism is profitable but it also changes our island into what we dislike about other shore communities. Many years ago when no one heard of Brigantine we all used to say "Shhhhhhh! Don't tell anybody!" Looks like the cat got way out of the bag!

Liz Barretta-Venezia Absolutely !!! I would've been pissed if I couldn't get on.....limit the passes sold and give year round residents first opportunity to buy them !!!!

at 13:01:12 on 7/05/2018 UTC

Susan Campione Pompei I believe the reason permits are not limited to Brigantine residents anymore is because several years ago the State stepped in and said that the beaches are state owned not city or township owned - therefore the beach permits had to be sold to anyone with a Nee Jersey address. Another way for the State to get its cut - unless I'm mistaken.

at 19:18:54 on 7/05/2018 UTC

Lori Morgan-Jay Janet Averbach Lieberman I pay Brigantine taxes no different than you do even if it's not my primary resident (unless you get a discount we don't know about), that really was a nasty remark !!!!

Kevin Crosson Jr. I don't agree with limiting passes to Brigantine homeowners. I lived in Brigantine for many years and now live about 15 minutes away. I bring my family down to the Cove every weekend so they can experience what I did growing up. Yes there are issues down there but it is only on July 4th when the once a year people come down and give us "locals" a bad rap.

at 23:32:06 on 7/08/2018 UTC

Eric Morrison Lori Morgan-Jay I think she meant as long as you have an address in brigantine whether you live there all year or just for the summer that you should be ok to get a permit. But limiting it to people who have an address in brigantine period which is totally understandable and should be the case. Open it to people with a house in brigantine first whether it be full time or just for the summer and if there are any spots remaining then out of Townes can apply. But it's ridiculous that people who pay taxes in brigantine and pay for the permit are not able to get on when they have already paid. I don't believe that her remark was nasty at all!!

Child Luring - Arrest

The caller advised a silver Subaru Forrester, driven by a white male, with dark black hair, and a beard, wearing sunglasses and a hat, approached an 11 year-old female while she was walking down the street. The suspect asked the victim if she needed a ride and for her phone number, at which point the victim ran to a neighbor's house.

While officers were responding to the incident, they located the suspect vehicle, which was being operated by the registered owner, Talal Aridi, 35/M of Mays Landing. Aridi was ultimately transported to the police station, interviewed by detectives and charged with Luring (2nd degree). The Atlantic County Prosecutor's Office Screening Unit was contacted and advised to place the charges against Aridi on a summons, per Criminal Justice Reform. Aridi was released pending court.

Tom Callahan Criminal Justice Reform come on this is just stupid. Child luring and this guys out/no bail? Cops jobs keep getting harder.

BRIGANTINE POLICE APPREHEND THREE BURGLARS IN A TWO WEEK TIME FRAME

Due to the recently reported motor vehicle burglaries which we alerted the public about last Thursday, our patrol officers and detectives increased patrols and surveillance in areas where burglaries have been reported.

On August 23, 2018 a citizen called police reporting that he found a male subject burglarizing his vehicle and began to chase him on foot. Lieutenant Hewitt and Officer Devine located the male with suspected burglary proceeds on his person. The 18 year old Brigantine resident, Daniel Pino, was arrested and charged accordingly with burglary and theft. He was released on a summons.

On September 3, 2018 Officer Sweet took a report of a burglary at the Brigantine Seaside Market. Video surveillance was obtained and showed that the suspect entered the business three nights in a row after hours and stole cash from the register and merchandise. A 28 year old Brigantine resident, Ivan Diaz, was positively identified in the videos and arrested and charged accordingly with burglary and theft. He was lodged in the Atlantic County Justice Facility on a warrant.

In the early morning hours of September 4, 2018 Officer Lyons was patrolling the area of 40th Street regarding reported motor vehicle burglaries in the area. He observed a subject on a bicycle matching the description of the burglar captured previously on video surveillance. When Officer Lyons attempted to stop the suspect, he dismounted his bicycle and fled on foot. After a brief foot pursuit, Officer Lyons apprehended the male suspect without incident. He was charged with multiple motor vehicle burglaries ranging from August 28, 2018 to September 4, 2018. The 20 year old Brigantine resident, Richard Brown, was released on a summons.

The arrests in these cases were the result of a cooperative effort between the citizens of Brigantine, the Brigantine Police Department Patrol Division and the Detective Bureau. We would like to thank all victims and witnesses in these matters for their cooperation and assistance in identifying and apprehending the individuals responsible.

If you have information on criminal activity or have been a victim of a crime, please contact the Brigantine Police Department at 609-266-7414.

These charges are merely an accusation and not proof of guilt. In all criminal cases a charged defendant is presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty.

Bill Kuchinsky Awesome!

Jennifer Herber We also have different residents and a different police force. Please don't judge the residents of AC for reacting the way they do; they deal with more crime, more often and proceed in a way that that has been going on for decades, and it makes sense for them for the time being. We are lucky here in Brigantine, and they too will hopefully get to where we are.

I know some locals leave it too but do you know how many times I have asked people who pack up and start walking off the beach if they're going to take all their trash and bottles with them? The looks I get are great but they always mutter something and pick it up anyway. Respect our home and we will respect its visitors. You cant come into someone's home, piss on their carpet and expect everything to be okay. I hope to see you guys come back but like I said, people live and work here, show some consideration.

Jennifer Herber Phil Babilino the word is spelled separates, but that is besides my point. While your point does mention the separation of the two, your choice of wording has a negative connotation, which does not help the public's perception of the city. And my comment was mainly directed at your 'See something Say something' comment. I believe we were both possibly trying to convey a similar message, with just different words.
