We get this question asked alot. Here is the update from Civil Service concerning the entry level police position examination. <http://www.state.nj.us/csc/seekers/jobs/safety/>

Law Enforcement: In order to be considered for employment in an entry-level law enforcement position, candidates must pass a written exam called the Law Enforcement Examination (LEE). Those who pass will remain in the eligible pool for two years. The pool of eligible candidates that result from the LEE will be used to fill positions for law enforcement titles in all Civil Service jurisdictions. The announcement for the entry-level law enforcement exam (LEE) issued June 4, 2013 and closed on September 4, 2013. Testing took place in November and December, 2013. Test results for the LEE were issued on May 1, 2014. We anticipate that the next LEE announcement will be issued in the Spring/Summer of 2016.

Civil Service Commission | Overview of Public Safety

The Entry-Level Public Safety Examination Process provides candidates with job opportunities in a wide variety of job titles such as: Police Officer, State and County Correction Officer, Sheriff's Officer, Fire Fighter, and many other public safety related titles. Law Enforcement: In order to be cons...

Theresa Lockwood When I was a child... my aunt was a crossing guard. I used to think they were police to protect children. LOL! They pretty much dressed like the Cpt, Chief and Lt. with the white crisp shirt. They pretty much looked the same in the 80s as the Lt. police looks today. I might of related them the same by uniform and activity and because they both drove the private police car by her husband. It was the 80s mind you. They could have their own car and use it as a police car. Imagine in the 80s a geared up Lincoln police car with a car phone. Lol!

Cameron Stuart I have just viewed the video of the Phillip G White murder and I have to say that I am so lucky to have been born in the UK a country where our police actually do protect and serve, U.S. policing is a joke where everything is solved by police brutality, U.S. police departments need to take lessons from the far superior European police departments who are able to take suspects in to custody without beating the life out of them, Louis Platanina and Rich Janasiak know they are untouchable, but in a real democracy these animals would be held to account

Theresa Lockwood Of course you people have to promote Fay. He falsified reports on me, and rejects justice to ignore the oppressed and listens to the lies you tel him....he also falsely accused me of crimes you people committed and said he could say the same thing about me.
Well not legally he can't, since its a lie, and its also mental abuse.
