Arrived on site and meet with the manager George and informed him that a complaint had been received regarding dogs inside shopping carts. I then educated him on the difference between "comfort" animals and service animals, with the latter only being allowed inside of the establishment. I then explained that although service dogs are allowed inside of the establishment they are not allowed inside of the carts. George assured me that staff on site only permit service animals in the establishment and never allow dogs of any kind inside of the shopping carts.
