Facility is in compliance; all equipment is new and sanitary. All refrigeration temps were normal. Either a bad batch of product was received, or an employee mishandled the food. I spoke to management and told them to keep an eye to make sure this was not an employee error and to make sure no one cross contaminates or handles raw food then ready to eat food. Remaining beef from that shipment has been discarded just in case it was a bad delivery.
NO CAUSE FOR FURTHER ACTION AT THIS TIME BY THIS AGENCY
