[REDACTED] Tom's River Police Officer Frank Moschella gets set straight by his superior for trying to strong arm a citizen for exercising his constitutional right to film in public. Poor Frank Moschella has to do the walk of shame with his tail between his legs:

[REDACTED] The cop was looking for trouble. He wanted to beat the living crap out of someone and this innocent guy was in his way! The cop obviously did not want to beat this guy on camera with other cops as witnesses so instead he threatened this innocent law abiding citizen with false arrest to stroke his ego and compensate for his impotence. WHY DO YOU SUPPORT CORRUPT CRIMINAL COPS [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] I have no police officer "issues". My father and Uncle were with NYPD for 30 and 25 years respectively. Both were decorated officers. I'm proud as hell of both of them. And I was personally helped tremendously by a group of officers when I was a victim of a crime. There are laws for a reason though. The officer was wrong. He wasn't nasty about it, he certainly doesn't deserve to be crucified but as his Sargent pointed out -- the man in question had no obligation to provide ID. Was the guy an ass - yeah. But it's the responsibility of law enforcement to know the law and apply it -- even when they are being baited -- maybe even more so when they're obviously being baited.

[redacted] Any response to the citizens that you serve regarding your officer Frank Moschella and his incompetence to do his job?

How many innocent citizens has officer Moschella arrested? EVERY arrest he has ever made is now in question and the public that pays his salary demands an answer from your department.

A FOIA request should be made for officer Moschella's arrest records and they need all to be reviewed and investigated for civil rights violations.
