Narrative:
Narrative The victim responded to the suspect's residence to retrieve house keys that her son Kyle (W) had left at the residence. The suspect is the significant other to the victim's ex-husband. The witness Kyle went into the house to retrieve the items without incident. The victim reports she remained in the vehicle. The suspect exited the residence and approached the victim on the driver's side door of her vehicle. The suspect attempted to shake hands and make peace with the victim. The two continued conversing which lead to a verbal argument. The suspect then made a jester as if she was going to punch the victim while yelling at the victim and her children. The older son Kyle attempted to diffuse the situation and she made a similar jester toward him.

Narrative:
Narrative
Upon arriving on scene, I spoke with Ms. Arroyo who stated that she had received a letter from Bank of America Card Services today (10/3/2018). The letter stated that she had recently attempted to open a credit card and that she needed to verify such information. Ms. Arroyo contacted Bank Of America and advised them that she did not attempt to open a credit card account and further stated she wishes for her bank account to be monitored. Ms. Arroyo did contact all three credit bureaus and placed herself on fraud alert. Ms. Arroyo also stated that Bank Of America advised her the Ip address used to apply for the credit card was from West New York, but was not allowed further information.
