STATEMENT OF CHIEF OF POLICE ON BODY WORN CAMERAS

The Westfield Police Department has announced that all of its uniformed patrol officers and field supervisors are now equipped with body worn cameras. The acquisition and deployment of these devices was part of a county-wide initiative of the Union County Prosecutor to equip each and every Union County police department with body worn cameras.

The Axon II body worn camera will be worn attached to the upper chest area of each officer's outermost uniform garment. It will be used in conjunction with the Axon Fleet 2 mobile video recording system, which has been installed in every patrol vehicle primarily used for traffic stops.

Body worn cameras memorialize important information by recording critical incidents and events. Officers are required to activate their body worn cameras when conducting enforcement and investigative actions, such as when making an arrest, issuing a summons, conducting a search or stopping a person on the street in the course of an investigation.

All uniformed patrol officers and field supervisors have received training related to the operation of these devices. They will be utilized in accordance with New Jersey Attorney General Law Enforcement Directive No. 2015-1 and Westfield Police Department Standard Operating Procedure.

The Westfield Police Department is fully committed to providing the highest level of service to the Town of Westfield. The acquisition and deployment of body worn cameras demonstrates not only a commitment to the people it serves, but also to the officers it employs, who day in and day out serve their community with honor, integrity and pride.

The cost of the body worn cameras was funded in large part with asset forfeiture monies from the Westfield Police Department's Municipal Law Enforcement Trust Fund, as well as with monies provided by the Union County Prosecutor's Office.

The photographs below depict what the Axon II body worn camera looks like and how it will be worn by the uniformed patrol officers and supervisors. Its placement may vary slightly by officer.

"Body worn cameras are essential to transparency and accountability. I am certain they will simply reaffirm that our officers are conducting themselves in a positive, professional manner at all times."
