Additional Notes and Comments

Handwashing sink was added to the back prep area. All violations in previous inspection have been corrected. There is no prep sink in the back kitchen. Manager says that the only food prep done in a sink is the straining of pasta. If regulations are followed, this can be done in a cleaned and sanitized compartment of the three-bay sink. If any food prep other than straining cooked pasta is done in the three-bay sink then the establishment will be required to put in a prep sink in the back prep area.
