- ✓ Preserves information from being deleted off servers.
- ✓ Has an expiration date, extensions available.
- ✓ Important to remember this is a REQUEST and not a legal order.

NON-DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT “NDO”

- ✓ Many social media outlets such as Meta & Twitter WILL notify users of any law enforcement records requests.
- ✓ Law enforcement can get a court order similar to 18 USC 2705(b) federal order of non-disclosure ordering the provider to not disclose the request to the user.
- ✓ Must also provide Subpoena for subscriber and IP address log in.
- ✓ A Service Provider can delay OR preclude disclosure to an interested party if disclosure would produce an adverse result.

*Not all Service Providers require an NDO ➡ GOOGLE, META, and DROPBOX all do require it!

SUBPOENA = Basic User Information & IP history

FAQs

"Where should I address my legal process?"
Meta Platforms, Inc., 1601 Willow Rd.,
Menlo Park, CA 94025

"Am I able to get messages between users?"
Yes, using a search warrant (unless encrypted)

"What is included in basic subscriber information?"
Name, emails, phone numbers, NCMEC reports,
registration date, registration IP, vanity, transactional IPs (if specified)

"Do you notify users if we give you legal process?"
Yes, unless you include a nondisclosure order or the crime is child harm

"I received an email from Meta asking for details about my case. Why?"
Meta is obligated by US law to meet certain requirements prior to disclosing user data. If you follow up with additional information, we are more likely to produce your records

"Meta did not produce what I had expected/is too slow/is asking too many questions. Should I rage in the portal?"
No. But if you do, I promise to use it in my next presentation
