* PRESS RELEASE *

Clark Township Mayor Angel Albanese made a statement in response to today's lawsuit:

Well maybe if you all actually made the previous mayor, chief of police, and other officers involved resign waaaaaaay back when instead of using tax payer money to try to cover it up, and then continue to pay the suspended officers for YEARS after it was made public rather than terminate their employment... maaaaaybe I'd be puzzled too. But no. No this is just Clark clutching its pearls that anyone dare criticize their own puzzling choices. How much have the citizens of the town payed out for this years long ordeal already?

I remember when the announcement was made jointly with Attorney General Gurbir Grewal and acting Union County Prosecutor Lyndsay Ruotolo. I was shaking my damn head, so to speak, when they stated "The residents of Clark Township deserve police leaders that meet the highest standards of the profession". ☐☐☐Ironical that during Lyndsay's dictatorship, I mean appointment, she suppressed some of the most experienced and qualified female personnel, promoted her equally ultra liberal, yet equally inexperienced buddy Derek Nececkas to deputy first assistant prosecutor, a position that hadn't existed since 2017, giving him a raise from $96,000 to $155,000. Oh and I almost forgot, promoted a detective with zero experience on the street, to a supervisory position as a sergeant, who by the way she had a sexual relationship with, over many others with experience who were more deserving. All she did was ride off her father's coattails.
But don't take my word for it, Google it.

Remember the time the last mayor said people of different skin color should be hung? Aw man, the residents loved that so much. Oh, and when the mayor used to go on Facebook to call his constituents snowflakes if they didn't agree with him about things? Man, his fans really ate that one up (though they sure do hate when people hurt their own very precious feelings). Oh! And remember the time when the mayor used his pull to get construction contracts for his family business and shut out competition? They must really like that construction company in Clark because they knew about it for multiple terms before he had to resign.

...but guys, guys... it's probably not true because this press release says at that bottom that Clark is an equal opportunity employer... which reminds me... remember the time that the mayor said women officers are disasters?...

Anyway, great statement guys... I see the AI language patterns in three places. Hope you didn't pay for that work because anyone with a degree in English (which is the language the mayor told people they need to speak in Clark) could tell you that you got robbed... I mean, not robbed like the time you all got blackmailed by a fellow officer with a recording of racist language, but robbed nonetheless...

The exact words attributed to Bonaccorso in the recordings or described in the lawsuit include:

He directed police to "keep chasing the spooks out of town".

He allegedly praised an officer after a traffic stop by saying, "Good for you, pulling over that [N-word] — keep them out of town".

He said he was worried that "these m-----s in Plainfield" may come through "f-----g Clark, see a kid with a Johnson jacket on and take a f-----g shot at them".

He complained about having to "go to a Plainfield f-----g council meeting in front of a room of them and get up and talk about it".

He also used terms like "shines" and the N-word.

He called female police officers "all [f---ing] disasters".

In a separate incident in 2024, he was recorded calling a speaker at a council meeting a "fcking retard".

He told police leadership, "You guys keep doing your job so we don't have no problems", in the context of keeping Black people out of town.

the fact that this police department posted this denial in direct contempt for decency shows exactly what the command staff and officers of this town are. No remorse, and this is what they are. RACISTS!

The complaint filed is about behavior prior to 2015. In 2020 UCPO assumed control and started addressing some of the systemic problems. Looks like the what they started doing was maybe beginning to work. But in March 2025 the UCPO role was terminated. Seems to me the AG just wants to go on record about the issues prior to 2015 so that the work they've done over the past 5 years doesn't revert back to the way the department was run for, oh, maybe 60 years or more? Not really sure what's so puzzling about that. It's not about what's happening now. It's about what happened then. You can't just sweep the what happened for decades under the rug because the past few years of monitored behavior have gone well.

Jonathan D Smith oh and did they pull you over because your headlight looked like it was about to go out like they did my mixed son as he drove my brand new car. Oh they were so fun when they pulled my mixed kids over and searched them and not their white friends.

Daniel Tegano so cops can profile and stop people for no reason except skin color and conduct themselves inappropriately because it's safe. Like are we Nazis now??

Please tell me what she has done that impresses you ?
They all need to step down. Start with a new slate and pick people that are not racist. When people let things happen like that you're just as guilty. She let it happen along with the rest of them.

Unfortunately this letter does not acknowledge issues and takes no responsibility. Great things are improving but no ownership of past events.
